Dear Sir,

I am a doctor working in HA, specialise in Family Medicine. As a doctor, I think we have to stand firm to provide the best quality medical care to the public. I really ask you to place more money on Family Medicine training, in terms of employing more GOOD QUALITY trainers and training young doctors in the Family Medicine Field. I think we work very well to provide a comprehensive care to our patients and act as a good gate-keeper to save money for the health care system.

In the pay model part, I think HK citizen are not understanding very well about your concept of insurance. Besides, poor people are very stubborn to change or to pay. I suggest the Government should not change as she is now providing a high quality medical care to the community and people are equal to receive the same care. It is the responsibility of the Government to save money now for the future cost.

Actually, the Government can invest the money from the money reserve surplus with a year's growth of 15%. In 10 years, the lump sum will quadruple. It is the same principle as that we are saving for our own retirement. Every year we put some amount to invest, 20 years later the amount must be sufficient to pay.

It is too narrow vision of you to look at the increase medical cost and ageing population only. Everyone knows this. It is a matter about money saving and investment. Also we have to make both ends meet. Why not invest now to save the enough amount to be used in future? I don't want to pay my money to insurance which must take some part of it.

Another compromise is that the Government take up the role of insurance provider. HK citizen trust the Government most in some sense. We don't want to be cheated.

Thank you

Dr Chan Ka Man
