Dear Sir/ Madam

I would like to suggest that more paragraphs should be included in the proposal to ring fence the resource for the mental patients whose interests is and will be difficult to be safeguarded in the current and proposed health finance system. As mental patients mainly rely on the public health service for their mental health care, a bench mark in the form of a percentage of the total public health budget to be allocated to mental health may be a viable option. The percentage is open for discussion.

regards

Dr Nguyen
