Subject Government's commitment to health care

Urgent     Return receipt     Sign     Encrypt

There is little said about how the money raised by mandatory insurance will be spent to improve the health care system. The government needs to spell out how improvement is made before pushing the reform any further. Afterall, the Government also needs to ensure her commitment to health care, without putting off the burden back to the people. We just cannot simply support the present reform document.
