

If all laser treatments are to be done by doctors only, then there would be many beautician could possibly become jobless. As currently there are a lot of laser treatments are done by beauticians. In my opinion, I think that the laser standards should not be raised to be classified as high risk.

Thanks!